1. Introduction

JobX10 (JX10) is a utility token designed to power the JobX ecosystem, enabling payments for coaching programs, job-related services, and community rewards within a transparent and growth-driven Web3 platform.

The project's goal is to combine the real-world effectiveness of job coaching, HR expertise, and modern digital training with the security, transparency, and global accessibility of blockchain technology.

2. Mission

To make professional coaching and job training more accessible worldwide.

JobX10 aims to create a global, blockchain-powered environment that supports individuals seeking career improvement, professional growth, and reliable coaching services regardless of geographical or financial barriers.

3. Target Audience

JobX10 is designed for:

- Job-seekers
- Coaching participants
- Self-employed professionals
- Companies and HR teams
- Community members

- Investors and token holders

The ecosystem offers value for both individuals and organizations.

4. Token Utility

JX10 is used as the central currency within the JobX ecosystem. The primary utilities include:

4.1 Payments for Coaching Programs

Users can pay for job coaching, digital courses, career guidance, and structured training modules using JX10.

4.2 Discounts on JobX10 Services

Payments made with JX10 unlock exclusive discounts and premium options within the JobX platform.

4.3 Community Rewards

Active participation — such as referrals, engagement, or supporting community events — is rewarded with JX10 tokens.
